

Harbour a 'ticking bomb' as huge holes discovered

by Harry Walton

WEYMOUTH must find up to £60million in repair cash to secure the long term future of its harbour.

Details of the funding mountain came as fresh evidence emerged of a sharp deterioration in the state of quayside structures.

The cash crippled authority has already had to find more than £4million to repair a structural collapse of the harbourside near the ferry terminal.

But it has now emerged that the whole quayside berth area from B1-A2 is in a poor state including

- A harbour wall hole up to 20ft deep near A2 at the Pavilion end

- Sheet piling rusted through and holed in 29 places

- Severe surface corrosion of piling over a wide area.

The gaping underwater hole was only discovered by accident when a diver went down to try and recover glasses that a friend had dropped overboard by the quay wall.

He said: "I found the glasses and a lot more as well because they were lying by a dark area from which a pair of lobster antennae were sticking out.

"I shone a torch, the lobster shot back and I wondered where it had gone, so I shone my torch in and there was a huge hole at least 20ft deep, a couple of feet high and about 15ft wide.

That whole section of harbour wall must be on borrowed time.

"So is the quayside on the other side of the harbour which is noticeably buckled with the road settling round all the drain covers.

"There is now a big crack in the harbour wall opposite the Old Rooms pub where there was nothing a year ago, so I believe that area is compromised as well. The drains have clearly been damaged by ground movement because you get raw sewage coming out of the storm drains when it rains heavily.

"My own personal opinion is that large parts of the quay wall are completely shot to bits. The council may have spent £4.4million to repair the quayside by the ferry but that could be a drop in the ocean compared to what it is going to cost to repair the rest of the harbour wall. It is a ticking bomb."

The piling problem is so bad at some points near the Pavilion that holes have exposed rubble hard core used to fill the quay wall.

JACKIE Sonner is headteacher of Wyke Regis Infants School in Weymouth.

She was born in Watford and first became a teacher at Sandford First School in Dorset before moving to Manor Park First School in Dorchester and then to Wyke in September 2013.

She is married to Andy and the couple have two sons, Michael and William.

■ WHY do you live in Dorchester?

I think it is a beautiful part of the country and a nice, friendly town.

■ WHERE do you go for your holidays?

Lots of different places such as Thailand, Malaysia, France and Turkey. We really like to travel.

■ WHAT is your favourite time of the year?

Autumn because I think it is nice mellow time of the year and both my children were born then.

■ WHAT is your favourite film?

Dr Zhivago because it has Omar Sharif in it and magnificent settings both historically and geographically. It is that much used expression, "an epic".

■ WHAT is the scariest thing that has ever happened to you?

We were in America and survived a crash where our car driver fell asleep at the wheel. We hit a crash barrier and spun round several times. We were lucky to be alive. The car was a write-off but all of us were unhurt.

■ IF you could live your life again what would you be?

I'd still be a teacher. I love it that much. If I really couldn't be a teacher then I would be a film star for the glamour.

■ WHICH three people would you invite to your dream dinner party?

Nelson Mandela because he was very inspirational, Emily Pankhurst for her courage and bravery in standing up for what she believed in and Sebastian Coe because of the tremendous work he did with the 2012 Olympics.

■ WHAT would you do if you won the Lottery?

I guess I'd travel and it would also allow me to pursue other interests such as charity work.

■ WHAT do you hope the future holds?

The Government letting the teaching profession get on with its job! And world peace.

Police to crack down on street drinking

PEOPLE found drinking on the streets of Weymouth or causing anti-social behaviour will be targeted as part of a two-week police campaign until August 18th.

Officers will be increasing patrols to tackle street drinkers and those acting in an anti-social manner.

Officers say they have been made aware of issues along the seafront involving groups of people who are regularly drunk, abusive and causing concern to members of the public.

During this two week long operation, anyone seen to be acting in an anti-social manner will be issued with a Section 27 dispersal order preventing them from returning to the area for up to 48 hours. If they breach this order they can be arrested.

Alcohol will be seized from anyone who is seen to be drinking in alcohol free areas of Weymouth Town which is a breach of local byelaws. Anyone who is found to be drunk and disorderly will also be arrested.

Weymouth Safer Neighbourhood Sergeant Steve Yeoman said: "The aim of this operation is to reduce anti-social behaviour and deal strongly with the issue of street drinkers in Weymouth."

"We are actively targeting these groups of people to ensure that those at fault are dealt with and that Weymouth remains a safe and beautiful place to live and visit."

Anyone who sees anyone involved in alcohol related disorder or acting in an anti-social manner should call Dorset Police on 101 or go to dorset.police.uk and report them using the Do It Online service. If a crime is in progress or life in danger please dial 999 immediately.

Lifeboat open day

CLOUDS parted just in time for people to visit Weymouth Lifeboat Station open day.

The all-weather and inshore boats were both available for people to clamber round as the climax to Weymouth Lifeboat Week.

Organiser Tony Beeson said: "We had torrential rain to start with but fortunately conditions improved just as we opened.

"Sadly the recession still seems to be biting because our donations were slightly down for all events this year compared to 2013."

"Weymouth has just had one of the sunniest Julys on record, but we found visitor numbers were actually down which had a knock-on effect on our Lifeboat Week's success."

He added that the open day also included the RNLI sea safety team offering advice to everyone about water safety.

Mr Beeson said: "All in all it was a successful Lifeboat Week without being a record breaker."

£60million needed to fix harbour

INSIDE a piling hole. Some are several feet deep

Weymouth and Portland environment spokesman Councillor Ian Roebuck said: "We know it is a serious situation and we know it will cost between £55-£65 million to secure the long term future of the harbour. This takes into account climate change and wear and tear."

"This latest news of harbour wall deterioration is further ammunition for our ongoing negotiations with the Environment Agency to future-proof the harbour and its surroundings through major capital works."

"The council is aware of various harbour wall holes, all of which are monitored."

"It confirms the power of the natural environment to erode and underlines just how important it is for regular maintenance cash to be set aside because major incidents will not only become more frequent but will cost more and have wider consequences to communities and supporting infrastructure."

Vandals strike at nature reserve

MESS and fire ashes strewn across the hide floor

VANDALS have wrecked a hide at the RSPB's Radipole reserve in Weymouth.

A large section of roofing was completely smashed and the hide has had to be closed while repairs are carried out.

RSPB spokesman Michelle Williams said: "The vandals also started a fire, smashed the hide doorframe and threw a pot of paint about. It was a mess."

"The sad thing about it is that we had to temporarily close the hide which was the best place for our visitors to see our wonderful marsh harriers and their two chicks which have just fledged."

The incident was reported to the police who are investigating the incident.

THE damaged hide roof

Group set up to fight beach access decision

IT was standing room only when a public meeting was called by local resident and Green Party member Clare Sutton to discuss options for re-establishing access to Castle Cove Beach in Weymouth.

She presented a petition to Weymouth and Portland council several weeks ago which now has almost 2,000 signatures, but the council voted to "take no further action".

Ms Sutton said: "I was extremely disappointed that councillors were not willing to listen to a number of very reasonable and cheap requests to explore all the options."

"I therefore called a public meeting to see if there is the will within our local community to in effect do what we asked the council to do... and the answer was a resounding 'yes'."

She added that more than 80 people attended the meeting including a few local councillors although none from Weymouth West or Weymouth East.

There was overwhelming support for continuing to try to find a solution and to set up a "Friends of" group to take this forward.

Already, the group has set up a Facebook page and is sending regular email updates to supporters.

In addition, a steering group has already met and decided on a few key courses of action.

The council said it had been forced to remove access steps to the beach following a landslip and did not have the "significant amount of money" it would require to rebuild the steps.

Ms Sutton said: "This is a very complex issue, there is no guarantee of success and it may take some time, but we are quite a determined bunch I think."

"We are exploring a number of avenues including investigating the contents of legal documents concerning the use of the private slipway, the stability of the top half of the existing path which is closed off and considering whether a new access route could be established."

"We do have a plan drawn up by a master builder costed at just £7,000-£8000, but whether this stands up to close scrutiny we will have to see. Do watch this space though."

Anyone who would like to receive email updates or would like to get involved should contact Clare Sutton by email on clare.sutton@zen.co.uk or ring Steve Elsworth on 07515-531098.

Capture nature's weird and wonderful creatures on film

DORSET Wildlife Trust (DWT) is encouraging more young people to go outside this summer and enter the Pat Dolbear digital photograph competition, with their up-close snapshots of wildlife.

Set up in September 2012 by Ken Dolbear MBE, in memory of his late wife, the Pat Dolbear Photographic Award specifically aims to get young people enjoying the wildlife around them by inviting them to take pictures of all the weird and wonderful wildlife they see.

The competition is open to anyone under 18 who has taken a wildlife picture on their phone or camera. Each month a panel of judges picks the best images, based on photographic creativity, photographic quality and rarity of the creature.

Prizes of up to £20 in Amazon vouchers will be awarded to young photographers who demonstrate their wildlife photographic talent to the judges.

Ken Dolbear said: "We set up the photograph competition in the hope it would stimulate the younger generation to look, see, photograph and understand the wonderful world of nature; particularly insects, which are the basis for all life on Earth.

"I hope the competition will encourage young people to go out and explore the natural world around them."

Ken is also offering some tips to get the perfect photo.

He said: "When out taking photos it's important to move slowly and steadily, and try not to make any sudden movements. Be sure to check any hedgerows for insects hiding in the foliage - flowers are also great places to get pictures of them feeding. Remember to take several shots of your subject to guarantee you get the perfect shot.

■ Agrion Demoiselle by Lara Hillier, aged 11

"Creatures like Butterflies can be quite difficult to photograph and are susceptible to movement, but are often much more approachable in the evening when you can get some fantastic photos of them basking in the warmth of the setting sun."

To enter the Pat Dolbear Photographic Award, send photos to photo-comp@dorsetwildlifetrust.org.uk including your name and age and some detail about when and where the photo was taken. For more information or to see some of the previous entries visit www.dorsetwildlifetrust.org.uk/photo-graphic_award.

Boost for Butterflies charity

BASEPOINT Weymouth has presented a £500 cheque to its nominated charity, Butterflies Children's Disability Fund.

It comes after match-funding money raised by Weymouth's Acting Caledonians following a show they put on especially for the charity.

The Butterflies fund supports disabled children up to the age of 18 in West Dorset by providing them and their families with specialised equipment such as tricycles, beds, weighted blankets, buggies and car seats.

The Acting Caledonians theatre group, regularly donate the profits from their shows to Butterflies Children's Disability Fund and have been raising funds for good causes over the past 40 years.

Basepoint Business Centres, which specialise in the development and operation business centres, is owned by The ACT Foundation, a grant-making charity, which aims to improve the quality of life of those in need.

Basepoint Weymouth centre manager Stella Brading said: "We were absolutely delighted to present this cheque to our charity, and hope the money will continue to support the amazing work they do with local children."

"We are also particularly grateful to the Acting Caledonians, who regularly donate profits to Butterflies Children's Disability Fund as well as other charities in the area."

Gardens among best in Britain

THREE public gardens in Weymouth and Portland are among the very best in Britain.

Portland's Easton Gardens and Weymouth's Sandsfoot and Greenhill Gardens have all won prestigious Green Flag awards.

The awards, handed out by environmental charity Keep Britain Tidy, recognise and reward the best parks, gardens and green spaces across the country.

The three award-winning gardens are all maintained by Weymouth and Portland council.

Weymouth and Portland community facilities spokesman Councillor Ian Bruce said: "We are lucky in Weymouth and Portland to have such a wealth of lovely gardens. It is great news that three of our gardens have been recognised as outstanding.

"A lot of work is carried out by community groups to help make the gardens such fantastic places for everyone to enjoy. I'd like to thank Easton Community Group, the Friends of Greenhill Gardens and the Friends of the Rodwell Trail and Sandsfoot Gardens for all their hard work."

Easton Community Group secretary June Morley said: "The gardens are wonderful. They are a place for everyone to enjoy. The community come out and support us whatever the weather and this is for all of us. We've all earned it."

"It is our summer fete on August 9th so, if you can, please come along and join us for a lovely day at Easton Gardens."

KBT Green Flag award scheme manager Paul Todd said: "A Green Flag Award provides national recognition for all the parks teams, staff and volunteers who, through their dedication and hard work, have helped to create these fantastic places for everyone to enjoy."

All three gardens have great facilities. Easton Gardens has mature trees, a play area and toilets, Greenhill Gardens by Weymouth Seafront has a putting green, bowling green, tennis courts, cafes and toilets and Sandsfoot Gardens has a café, toilets and the remains of a Tudor castle in its grounds.

Volunteer 'buddies' needed for community credit scheme

THE Volunteer Centre Dorset is seeking Volunteer "mentor-buddies" to support the Community Credit Scheme in the Weymouth area.

People with learning disabilities and their buddies are earning community credits through volunteering. One credit note is earned for each hour of voluntary work completed. These credit notes can be exchanged at a number of leisure facilities in Dorset such as Osprey Leisure Centre and the Plaza Cinema.

Anyone who does not wish to receive credit notes for their volunteer time can donate them back into the pot which could be exchanged for a volunteer to support someone in their leisure activity.

Spokesman Siobhan Davis said: "With your support you could enable someone to learn new skills, and build their confidence, whilst also feeling part of the wider community."

Examples of mentor-buddies needed include:

- A lady driver is required to collect a young lady with Down's Syndrome and to help her in her volunteering role. This would be once a week for two - three hours on a Tuesday or a Thursday.

- A person is required to help a young man with learning disabilities to put out chairs at a local community church in Weymouth, on Thursdays from 11.30am - 1.30pm (plus extra time to set-up/clear-away).

- A person is needed to support a young man with Down's Syndrome to help in a community café in Weymouth.

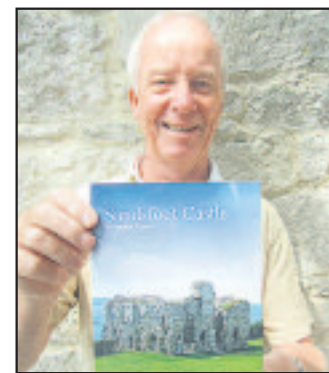

One volunteer said: "The scheme has really helped me believe in myself and no one else has ever done this."

For more information contact Siobhán Davis 01305 269214.

■ A NEW booklet has been published detailing the history of Sandsfoot Castle in Weymouth.

The booklet has been produced by the Friends of Rodwell Trail and Sandsfoot Castle to boost their funds and help pay for future leaflets and publications.

Chairman David Carter (pictured) said: "The booklet comes complete with opening section pictures of the castle inside and outside as it was in the mid-16th century during the time of King Henry VIII. It costs £2.50 and is available at Sandsfoot Cafe, Portland Museum and other outlets."

Tours will be held on Sunday, August 10th, from 3pm-4pm, Thursday, August 14th, from 6pm-7pm and Saturday, August 23rd from 3.30pm-4.30pm. Numbers are limited and people should book through Amy on 07590 827887 or email amy_hopwood@yahoo.co.uk.

Each tour is free, takes about one hour and will be walked at a leisurely pace on flat ground.

The "If Walls Could Talk" project has spent the last few months collecting people's memories of the old shops and businesses within the park estate.

Spokesman Amy Hopwood said: "Along the way we've heard tales about a host of colourful characters, World War II and the American troops billeted in the area, 'Swindon weeks' and how most local families would make extra money by giving a room over to holiday makers in the summer and the way the area was so well provided with shops and services that people didn't need to venture out into Weymouth at all."

August 23rd also includes a 1950s-style tea party to celebrate the end of the project, which is free.

Have a FEAST this autumn

by Harry Walton

PLANS for an exciting new dining event are being set up for Weymouth throughout October and November.

FEAST Weymouth, supported by Weymouth Business Improvement District (BID) already has some of Weymouth's top restaurants on board and is set to have many more sign up over the next few weeks.

Mallams, The Dining Room, The Dorset Burger Company, The Balti House, The George Bar & Grill, Il Porto and Sense are leading the way early on.

FEAST is a six-week long celebration of local independent eateries which aims to draw customers in to Weymouth throughout a traditionally quiet period in autumn to sample the delights of Weymouth's varied foodie scene.

Ali Record of The George Bar and Grill said: "We are delighted to be supporting this. Weymouth has been crying out for a new event like this for years and we look forward to a great autumn."

Weymouth BID will be funding the event for the local businesses and all BID levy payers will be able to participate free of charge.

The event is also open to any businesses that are non-BID levy payers, but a small voluntary fee will be required.

The fees from non-levy payers will help to cover the costs of marketing and advertising.

Weymouth BID joint chairman Alison Theobald said: "A dining event out of season had always been in Weymouth BID's business plan."

"With such an array of independent eateries, we really wanted to celebrate them and draw people into the town. We have seen the success of Tenner Fest in Jersey and look forward to making FEAST Weymouth a popular yearly event for Weymouth."

until November 15th.

Each venue will have their own terms and conditions so diners are encouraged to call ahead and book.

Menus for each participating venue will be displayed across the "weareweymouth" website and Weymouth BID website.

Janice Gossen of Mal-lams said: "This is a great event which could really enable businesses to flourish during a quiet time in our seasonal town. We look forward to supporting anyway we can."

Katharine Wright of Dorset Food & Drink has also offered her support for the event.

She said: "October is fast becoming a very 'foodie' month for Dorset. We have Dorset Food Week and Screen Bites, which is now celebrating its 10th anniversary, all happening in October. I think FEAST Weymouth is a very exciting new event which I believe could one day work for many other towns in Dorset."

■ GRAHAM Keates and Anne Morris

VOLUNTEER RNLI lifeboat crew member Graham Keates has been presented with his 30 year service medal in a ceremony at the Sea Cadets Centre, Barrack Road, Weymouth.

A crowd of Weymouth RNLI lifeboat crew, families, supporters, friends and coastguards all turned out to see Graham receive his medal from Anne Morris, the wife of Barney Morris who was Weymouth lifeboat station honorary secretary when Graham joined the crew in 1982.

The ceremony started with current lifeboat operations manager John Harvey welcoming everyone to the celebrations. He then recounted some salty sea stories from Graham's 32 years of volunteering with Weymouth lifeboat.

In addition to his medal, Anne also presented Graham with a tankard engraved with a picture of Graham's first lifeboat, the Tony Vandervell.

Graham then gave a short speech in which he thanked his wife Jenny and children, Sarah and Matthew, for their support over the years and for all the good wishes that he had received from everyone.

The presentation ended with the Coxswain of Weymouth lifeboat, Andy Sargent, thanking Graham for his past and continuing volunteering as a crew member.

Anne and Jenny each then received a bouquet.

The rest of the evening was spent socialising and enjoying a buffet that had been provided.

Weymouth remembers outbreak of Great War

by Harry Walton

WEYMOUTH marked the centenary of the start of the First World War with a special service at the seafront war memorial.

It was taken by service association chaplain, the Reverend Dennis Mould, and was attended service organisations and standards, civic dignitaries and members of the public.

Events included the laying of 500 crosses to remember all those personnel who left Weymouth for the conflict and who gave their lives for king and country in the Great War.

Organiser Naomi Turner said: "We also had a list of 110 names missed off the Weymouth War Memorial.

"The 500 crosses were dedicated by Weymouth people over the last six months including 100 by schoolchildren from Wey Valley who put personal messages on the back of their crosses to people being remembered."

Among those attending the service was Weymouth and Portland Mayor Councillor Kate Wheller who said: "It was a very important day to remember those who gave their lives for their country.

"We must not celebrate that but we should commemorate it."

■ AN EXHIBITION about Weymouth during the First World War has opened in the Mulberry Gallery at the town's main library.

The exhibition, which will run until August 30th, contains photos, leaflets and newspaper cuttings of the time to mark the centenary of the outbreak of the Great War on August 4th, 1914.

Organiser Wendy Brown said: "We have more than 100 items which give a real flavour of wartime Weymouth in 1914.

"We have recruiting posters, adverts of the time, economy appeals and even an aerial photograph of Weymouth.

"There are memories of local people, details of war graves, postcards of the time and details of local military hospital including the Sidney Hall – now demolished – which used to be at the bottom of Boot Hill.

"I am really pleased with the exhibition because it is very topical. Weymouth certainly played its part in the Great War."

There will also be a series of free talks at the library including Dorset Transport During World War I by Brian Jackson on Thursday, August 7th at 10:30am, An Anzac in Weymouth by Anne McCosker on Tuesday, August 12th at 10.30am and The Origins of World War I by Allan Wood on Tuesday, August 19th, at 10.30am.

More information about the talks is available on 01305 762410.

The Christian Column

AS I SEE IT ... by Geoff Treleven

No problem

IF I ask someone to do something for me and they agree, I have been used to them simply saying yes or OK; but more recently, "No problem" is the normal reply.

Whilst I appreciate their willingness, I do know there are often problems to overcome. My own experience has been that, however well prepared I may be, I am never quite sure what problems I will face until I start the job in hand.

Becoming a Christian can be made to sound an easy matter, and it certainly does not need to be complicated. But there are implications that have to be faced. One of these is accepting there might be ridicule from friends and workmates. And even if that does not put us off, we may have fears that we could never maintain such a high standard and would be prone to many failures. We may be only too well aware of our personal weaknesses.

None of us has the strength within ourselves to live the Christian life when we come to Jesus Christ in repentance and seriously commit our lives to Him, He empowers us with His Holy Spirit. On that basis, we can truly say: "No Problem."

Book sale helps to fund museum

SEVERAL hundred works were on offer when Weymouth Museum hosted a fundraising book sale.

The event was organised by the Friends of Weymouth Museum whose vice-chairman Pauline Carter was delighted at the success of the sale.

She said: "The money we raised will go towards our target of raising £10,000 towards the new Weymouth Museum.

"We really appreciated the people who came in today and bought books which were very popular."

Their next event is their Weymouth seafront stall on August 28th at 10am.

Carnival welcomes good ship Pelican

WEYMOUTH'S tall ship, Pelican, will be alongside during the town's carnival celebrations on August 20th.

The 45-metre vessel will be open to the public and dressed for the festivities.

Kate Graeme-Cook from the charity Adventure Under Sail says: "It's great news that Pelican and her crew will be in Weymouth to celebrate the carnival which is the highlight of the town's summer festivities. People will be able to have a good look round and see what is involved in sailing a tall ship. It's a great opportunity to see a tall ship up close."

Pelican sails for the Channel Islands on August 25th then on to the Tall Ships Regatta in Falmouth from August 28th-30th, which is a highlight of the year.

Berths are still available for the voyage for 16-80 year olds. It gives those aboard a chance to enjoy all the challenges of crewing a tall ship including navigation, rigging, sail stowing and all the teamwork and communication skills needed to keep Pelican sailing. No sailing experience is necessary.

Please go to www.adventureundersail.com if you would like more information about sailing on Pelican or call 01305 858274.

Greenhill's fayre

GREENHILL Gardens will be holding its annual fayre in Weymouth on Sunday, August 10th from 2pm-4pm.

The event, which is being organised by the Friends of Greenhill Gardens, includes great music by saxophone quartet, Switch, who will play on the bandstand while singer Tony Lowe will perform the sounds of Frank Sinatra.

There will also be various stalls with cakes, tombola and bric-a-brac with a chance to win a giant banana!

Making safety part of the fun

How the RNLI are using activities and games to help families stay safer on the beach.

THIS summer, two thirds of us will head to UK beaches for sun, sandcastles and a splash in the brisk, British waters. But the sea can be unpredictable. Something young people especially need be aware of. In fact, RNLI Lifeguards helped over 9,500 children on and around UK beaches last year.

“ Nearly a third of all people rescued from UK beaches last year were children under 12 years old. ”

The RNLI is known for its volunteer lifeboat service, but the charity's lifeguard service is just as vital and provides safety to over 200 of the UK's busiest beaches. The lifeguard's duties include performing safety patrols, managing warning flags and rescuing people in trouble. It's a demanding job, requiring specialist training and tough fitness tests. Charitable donations from the public really make a difference to the service they provide.

Getting children beach smart in a fun way

While beach safety is a serious issue, RNLI lifeguards believe learning about it can be fun. This is particularly important for children, who respond to serious messages when delivered through games and activities. This year, the RNLI are helping children get beach smart, with free activity packs, including an identity snapband and waterproof pen (see the page opposite for details on how to get yours).

While children will love the snapband's bright colour and cartoon puffin motif, parents can use the indelible pen to write their name and mobile number on the inside, for peace of mind on crowded beaches. It's an approach they're committed to, through programmes like Swim Safe – a course run in partnership with the Amateur Swimming Association (England's national governing body for swimming) to help 7-14 year-olds become safe in and around open water.

Meet your local RNLI lifeguards

On many beaches throughout the summer, RNLI lifeguards run sandcastle competitions. These give children a chance to meet the lifeguards on patrol and get safety tips, while showing off their creative efforts.

It looks like it's going to be a fun summer. And thanks to the RNLI and its lifeguards, it's even easier to have a safe one.

To get your Beach Smart activity pack, text 'SMART' to 82727 or visit beachsmart.org/press

“It was a close call.”

RNLI lifeguard Karen was on a routine patrol when she noticed something odd: a boy paddling on a sandbar, beyond the safety flag. Suddenly, he wasn't there. Immediately, she leapt into the water with her rescue tube, swimming around 30m to where the boy had disappeared. Diving down, she managed to reach the already-submerged youngster and pull him to safety. “It was a close call,” she said later. “The boy wasn't aware of the strong currents, and couldn't swim.”

Learning about mosaics

EVERYTHING you ever wanted to know about mosaics was on show when the White Stones cafe and gallery staged an open day as part of the Spirit of Portland Festival.

Owner and artist David Nicholls is master of many mediums but he used the day to focus on mosaics.

He said: "Visitors were able to see me construct a small mosaic and, if they wanted, sign up for future mosaic workshops."

"I also displayed examples of mosaic work I had already completed which were on show in the gallery garden."

He explained that traditional mosaics are created using small pieces of cubed stone known as tesserae, but his more modern approach uses everything from stone to glass, coins, keys, beads and pieces of broken crockery and tile.

David said: "I wanted to show people both the traditional and modern method of creating a mosaic and also show them what finished items can look like."

"I have been greatly in-

■ DAVID Nicholls with his bowl and ball mosaics

fluenced by the modern emphasis on recycling which I bring to my mosaics, something people seem to like and comment on.

"It is also about introducing colour into a 3-D form which can be quite complex."

"My future plans include trying to combine all this with Portland stone to create works which are both mosaic and sculpture."

Sculpture celebrated at festival exhibition

■ ARTIST in residence Christina Chen carves an abstract sculpture

AN open studio and exhibition of art and architecture has been held at the Drill Hall in Easton Lane as part of the Spirit of Portland Festival.

The event included a chance for visitors to try their hand at stone carving and to see it carried out by professional stone sculptors and sculptresses.

Organiser Hannah Sofaer said: "We also had an exhibition showing a model by Geoffrey Stewkesbury of old and new local quarrying methods as well as a display of photographs by Luke Woods."

"The exhibition was open for eight days and had two artists in residence who are still displaying now."

The first was Christina Chen from Taiwan who was carving abstract sculpture. She said: "Stone carving is a psychic dance. It is a spiritual dialogue between me and my work."

The second artist was Sonja Islamovic from Sweden who said: "I am working with time based sculpture, looking at landscape in stone and casting with particular emphasis on moulds."

"I am currently making a performance piece which will be ready in about a week's time related to stone in the landscape and how it is extracted in cubes. The finished work will suspend 'stone' blocks from the ceiling but they will be cast from plaster."

Hannah said: "We had more than 100 visitors through here in all and their general reaction was one of real interest."

The event also included living archive interviews and footage of quarrymen and stonemasons.

■ FOOD tasting was on the menu when the Isle of Portland Community Market held a special event in the C2000 hall at Easton as part of the Spirit of Portland Festival.

The tasting offered visitors a chance to tuck in to cheese straws, flapjacks, cakes, lemon bakewell, lemon sponge, three fruits marmalade and plum jam.

Chairman Carol Houlden (pictured) said: "We had more than a dozen stalls and the tastings were held specially for Spirit."

"We also had craft demonstrations of needle felting, cross-stitch and patchwork."

Pre-historic painting

MORE than 130 visitors roared their approval when a Dinosaur Day was held at the island's museum as part of the Spirit of Portland Festival.

There were fossilised dinosaur bones and children could paint a dinosaur, enjoy dinosaur magnets and dinosaur balloons, make an ammonite picture, tackle a baby dinosaur hunt or munch their way through ammonite biscuits and a whole range of cakes.

Museum co-ordinator Lisa Gravett said:

"It was absolutely manic in here! Crowds of people came in to tour the museum, use our dinosaur dig box, try fossil brass rubbing and face painting or hand-print dinosaurs.

"Children could also make a stegosaurus and they were all really enthusiastic about the day. It also meant we were taking part in the Spirit of Portland Festival which we were delighted to support."

Party in the street

■ LET the street party begin!

THERE were plates, boxes and displays of food of almost every description when the community of Wakeham held a street party as part of the Spirit of Portland Festival.

The event also raised money for the Friends of Wakeham Phone Box.

Organiser Wilma Butler said: "This was a true community event, everybody pitched in to help and we had a lovely time.

"We had tables by the green, music, stalls set up under the trees and every home nearby brought out food for the party....but we waited a while because of the seagulls!"

"This was our third annual street party and we hope to hold another one next year."

■ BRUINS sipped from their cups when a special teddy bears' picnic was held in Victoria Gardens as part of the Spirit of Portland Festival.

There was also a tombola, a raffle, refreshments, dancing, singing, races and a treasure hunt.

Organiser Robert Grigsby said: "We also had a drawing competition and various activities including crafts.

"The event, held as part of the Spirit of Portland Festival, was in aid of the Friends of Victoria Gardens who are raising money for projects in the Gardens including new children's play equipment, improved seating, railings and gates."

Fete fun!

■ A BIG community effort was made to hold a fete at Weston Community Hall on Portland.

The event, held as part of the Spirit of Portland Festival, was designed to raise money for the upkeep of the hall which has just been taken over by the community.

There were stalls for books, tombola, toys, games, cakes, a raffle and refreshments.

Fete organisers Rachel Saunders and Jayne Cox said: "We need money desperately for maintenance such as new windows, damp repairs and providing the kitchen with proper equipment.

"So we held a fundraising fete as part of Spirit, not just to raise money but also to raise awareness that the hall is here and needs the community to support it and use it."

Weymouth Matters

A personal View by HARRY WALTON

Circus with a difference

IT is amazing what a bit of weathering can do to change the sense of things.

Animal rights supporters should pay particular attention to this because my case in point involves performing stoats who were appearing as one of the attractions in a giant but very battered circus big top.

It was seen together with huge advertising signs painted on its worn surface by a Weymouth man who happened to spot it as he drove by the site.

Just as well he didn't pursue his interest any further because what he thought was the intriguing "Chinese Stote Circus" actually said "Chinese State Circus"!

I've loaned him my daughter's book on wildlife to help brush up on his spelling!

■ POLITICS requires an acute brain, a quick and clear grasp of official documents and preferably an ability to avoid providing voters with a foggy response to questions.

So I think I can say without fear or favour that the response provided by one candidate on forms for recent elections to Portland Town Council failed on all three counts.

They coped perfectly with difficult questions such as "Name of Candidate" and "Home Address" but fell at the third hurdle - "Description (if any)" - where candidates provide details of which political party they represent.

The description this candidate provided was: "Blonde, curly hair, grey eyes"!

I'm sure a promising political career is just around the corner!

Public art a little bit like 'Marmite'

COLOURFUL debate has been splashed across a broad canvas following the unveiling of Weymouth's latest offering of public art.

Three pieces totalling more than £75,000 are now in situ at the Weymouth Gateway site off Dorchester Road and feelings have been, to say the least, "mixed" about their impact.

The newcomers have a tough act to follow after more than £330,000 was poured out - some would say down the drain - for the infamous "Stones on Sticks" sculpture at Littlemoor.

Fortunately public coffers have not been embarrassed by the three new pieces which have been jointly funded by New Look and Sainsbury's.

Essentially we are told they represent a rendition of local memories and tales in the form of rusting plesiosaur heads welded to torpedoes with an ornate chair on top, a bus stop with horns on top and a giant picture frame with wings and etchings.

Of the three, I believe "Torpedosaur" is extremely eye-catching, that the bus stop has missed the bus and that "Frame" is OK if you like that sort of thing.

But if other businesses, Weymouth and Portland council or anyone with more money than sense is planning to inflict more art on this area's long suffering public then I have one thing to say: "Enough is enough."

I do not want to stand in front of a broken tailor's dummy speared into a dustbin garnished with a cross made from rotted fence posts and be told it symbolises the waste of human life in World War I.

I particularly do not want to hear from the council that it is trying to reduce its budget problems by offering the Mayor's unmade bed for sale in the hope of emulating Tracey Emin's bed artwork which recently sold for a rumpled £2.2 million.

We are being forced to endure and must continue to suffer the more bizarre Weymouth forays into artwork foisted on us for years to come, so I feel any future public artwork should stipulate a return to more mainstream forms of art such as a Portland stone sculpture figure or an ornate fountain. It is all well and good to show how "progressive" Weymouth is with the Gateway and Littlemoor offerings.

OK, so we've been "progressive". In future let's balance the books a bit for the sake of sanity and ensure any future artistic project owes a bit more to art and a bit less to reducing the number of landfill objects sent to Dorset rubbish tips.

Can't see the warnings through the trees!

YOU know those occasions when something happens, you can't believe it and just burst out laughing?

Well that happened recently at the start of roadworks near Lyme Regis on a hill with a slow curving bend from right to left.

As you might imagine, this was an extremely dangerous position to have to carry out any roadworks and the workmen we found ourselves behind were taking the situation very seriously indeed.

First, they made sure they had a decent audience - the traffic queue behind their flatbed van was soon out of sight - then they chucked down and set up a sign warning that the road ahead would soon have its inner lane closed.

Then they moved another 30 metres round the bend and put down a "roadworks ahead" sign and it was at that point we were able to pull round them and drive on.

By this time my wife had tears of laughter rolling down her face and I still couldn't believe what I had just seen.

The cause of our disbelief was that, on a dangerous section of rural highway, roadwork signs had been put in such a fashion that the verge undergrowth almost completely obscured the warnings! The first one in particular was a waste of time thanks to dense cow parsley.

The mentality that can grasp the need for a safety warning and then totally waste the effort to install one offers a frightening insight into the way local authorities work.

Fort returns to the homefront

AIR raid sirens sounded when Weymouth's Nothe Fort staged a World War II re-enactment weekend.

More than 1,000 people enjoyed the nostalgic event entitled "A Look Back at the Home Front".

Fort events manager Jane Chandler said: "We had a Home Guard unit all the way from Northamptonshire showing visitors how to bayonet a "straw" enemy. They also fired their weapons and carried out drill practice.

"A bomb disposal squad showed all the equipment used during World War II and also staged several demonstrations on how to defuse a bomb.

"Wyke Regis WI ran their stall of delicious home-made food to wartime recipes, there was knitting for the soldiers at the front and we had the Decadettes singers and a clarinet quartet called Switch.

"Our schoolroom was open to give children a taste of classroom life more than 70 years ago and we even had a 1940s hairdresser and some jive dancers.

"All in all it was a tremendous success and we are now looking forward to our spectacular event on September 10th-13th when the fort will be staging a wonderful Son et Lumiere.

"More details are on our website at www.notheport.org.uk."

£350 for veterans' charity

■ WEYMOUTH Group members of the Aden Veterans Association used the recent veterans' weekend in the town to collect funds for the Alabaré Weymouth Home for Veterans Christian charity.

They raised £350 and a cheque was presented to Emma Mandiville of Alabaré during a group meeting in the Royal Air Force Association Club.

The AVA Weymouth Group wish to thank the people of Weymouth for their kind and very generous hospitality during the veterans' weekend.

Country markets supports charities

PRESTON Village Market will be held at St Andrew's Church Rooms on Saturday, August 9th at 10am.

There will be cards, crafts, produce, cakes, plants and much more as well as the usual delicious refreshments.

This time the event is supporting two charities including Dorchester Almshouses, which provides first and foremost for older people from the local community.

The second charity is Project Zoe supporting Chesil Sailability which was inspired by the 2012 Paralympic Games to allow all people, regardless of disability, to enjoy sailing.

Shoppers are also advised that Dorchester Country Market will not be holding its usual market in the Corn Exchange, High East Street, Dorchester on Friday, August 8th, but on Thursday, August 7th instead.

The market returns to its usual spot the following Friday.

Social club launched for men with dementia

OLDER men with dementia in rural areas of Dorset are being invited to take part in a social club which will run for eight weeks.

It will enable them to meet other men in their area with dementia over a cup of tea and biscuits and will help collect information for Ben Hicks who is doing a doctoral study part funded by Bournemouth University Dementia Institute and Age UK Dorchester.

The initiative will help collect information for research and contribute to the final documentation produced.

The guidance that will come from these sessions will help improve the lives and well-being of men with dementia throughout the UK.

The social club is the first of four parts of the study and includes a free men-only club which will meet at St John's Hall, Ventnor Lane, Portland on eight consecutive Mondays from August 18th until October 6th from 10.30am-12.30pm.

During sessions participants will use activities on gadgets and gizmos such as the Nintendo Wii, Nintendo DS, Microsoft Kinect and iPads and play games such as bowling on the Nintendo Wii or puzzle games on the iPad.

The activities may involve some mild exercise and will give those taking part something new to try out. Above all they will be fun and entertaining! Participants' care partner will also be invited to stay and watch but will not be able to take part in activities.

Once social clubs finish in October Mr

Hicks will ask participants if he can accompany them on a walk around their local neighbourhood.

He said: "The walk can be as long or as short as you like and you can choose the areas we visit. It could be to your local pub or favourite park. I'll leave it up to you. I want to find out from you what it's like to live in your neighbourhood, what you like or don't like, places you find interesting or enjoy visiting. If you feel for any reason that you are unable to walk around your local area, then don't worry. We can just talk about your experiences in the comfort of your own home."

"Around December time, I will invite you for another chat. I will want to tell you about what I've found out during all my research. I'll be asking you if what I've found out sounds accurate and asking some more questions about your thoughts of the social clubs and if you have noticed any other benefits since they finished."

"In June 2015, I will invite you to attend a final discussion group. All those who have taken part in the research as well as health professionals who regularly work with people with dementia in the Dorset region will be invited. Here you will be given a chance to tell everyone what you think about the final guidance."

"I hope that the final guidance will help health professionals to set up other similar social clubs to benefit all those with dementia. All information will be kept confidential."

Captain Barnacles pays a visit to hospital

CAPTAIN Barnacles from the Octonauts has tackled a special mission to visit children based on the Kingfisher Ward at Dorchester County Hospital for cuddles and colouring.

Sally Bundchen, Play Co-ordinator at Dorchester County Hospital said: "Thank you to Captain Barnacles for coming to visit the children here on the Kingfisher Ward."

"Not only has this made a lot of children's wishes come true, it has also given them temporary relief from their surroundings and situation."

Captain Barnacles took with him staff from Weymouth Sea Life Adventure Park who handed out Octonaut hats and colouring sheets to the children.

Marketing co-ordinator Laura Culshaw said: "This was a special mission to visit children not well enough to visit the park this summer."

"We hope meeting Captain Barnacles has made their stay in hospital just that little bit more bearable today."

The crew of the Octopod enthralled legions of young fans with their missions to save sea creatures in trouble and everyone who met Captain Barnacles agreed that he certainly brought lots of smiles to the Kingfisher Ward making this trip, mission accomplished!

Sign up first aid lessons

ST John Ambulance is calling for millions of parents to sign up for first aid lessons this summer.

The campaign is backed by St John Ambulance's Dorchester-based community projects co-ordinator, Kerry Course, who used her first aid knowledge to save her daughter's life, last year.

"She was running into the kitchen to tell me something and the next thing I knew, Amber was choking," said Kerry. Amber had got a fried egg sweet stuck in her throat.

"It was scary. She was fighting for air and she couldn't breathe."

Fortunately, Kerry knew what to do, thanks to her St John Ambulance first aid training.

"I delivered back blows, just as I'd been taught and three of them did the trick."

"We talk about being the difference between a life lost and life saved but I was particularly glad to have been the difference in this case."

The first aid charity has also launched a short spoof film – Safety Suit – to send up this "cotton wool culture", and encourage parents to pick up potentially life-saving skills online, so they can let their children play outside with peace of mind.

"I would love to wrap Amber in cotton wool or bubble wrap, but she needs able to explore and enjoy her environment, Kerry added.

"Learning first aid means I worry less."

Further information is available by calling a local St John centre.

Weymouth Weyfarers are out on our streets

■ The Weyfarers: back, Lynne Nash and Ian Barton; front, Danny Ferguson, Jerry Silver and Helen Heger

THE first group of Weymouth BID (Business Improvement District) Weyfarers has now completed its training and has welcomed the German cruise ship, Astor, and 586 passengers to Portland Port.

The Weyfarers will welcome visitors to the town and support the Weymouth BID to promote the area by providing help and assistance to visitors to the town.

The Weyfarers training scheme was based on the 2012 Olympic Ambassadors programme with the role of the Weyfarers being very similar. The Weyfarer programme will use the "Inspire 2012" logo and their new uniform has been designed by marketing company RLA and printed by local company Weyprint.

Weymouth BID manager Nigel Reed said: "The training course was well received by the Weyfarers with great input from Kevin Good of Weymouth and Portland council who demonstrated the use of radios and highlighted the support the Beach Office can provide. PCSO Dave Hill from the Safer Neighbourhood Team also provided useful information. We are looking forward to running further courses as more people apply."

Weyfarer Jerry Silver said "I volunteered to be a new Weyfarer because it's a great way of promoting Weymouth as a friendly town so that tourists can spread the word that it's a fantastic place to visit in any season."

"I want to give a welcoming first impression and pass on my enthusiasm for the town to visitors and locals. After two days of professional training I'm ready to hit the streets in the very modern Orange Weymouth BID uniforms and help create the 'Weyfarer brand' that the town can be proud of."

Weymouth BID will be recruiting the second group of Weyfarers later this summer and is looking for people who are able to give a minimum of eight hours or more over a four-week cycle with the aim to provide an all year round service.

■ Wey Valley School students watch a Science at Work demonstration

What the blazes?

LESSONS learnt in science classes were brought dramatically to life at a Science at Work event at Wey Valley School, Weymouth.

A series of special hands-on workshops, backed by the Royal Society of Chemistry, showed how science is used every day in the workplace in a bid to encourage young people to take up scientific careers when they leave school.

Dorset Fire and Rescue Service took part in the day, demonstrating the chemistry of fire and how oxygen fuels the spread of fire by setting light to a chip pan.

Science and technology specialists Katalytic demonstrated how science is used in the food industry, creating ice-cream and sherbet with the Year 8 and 9 pupils as part of their STEM programme across Dorset schools.

The Government Defence Science and Technology Laboratories took part with a look at forensic science with the pupils.

Mary Critchell, Careers Manager

at the Wey Valley School said: "We wanted to show students that science is used every day in the workplace, whether you are in food, manufacturing, the service industry or technology."

"Working alongside adults from the world of work really helps to bring into focus how important it is to learn about these things. Science is not about gaining academic knowledge it is about gaining skills and knowledge that you can use your whole life through."

The 15th Annual Wings & Wheels just weeks away!

THE fifteenth annual staging of the successful and popular event is now just a few weeks away.

It is hard to believe that it came about simply because a May morning in 2000 was foggy. The then newly established team of Vintage Flying were about to present their first "Great Vintage Flying Weekend" at Thruxton Airfield. With around 600 aircraft requesting passes and a beautiful blue sky and bright sunshine, things were looking good. But not for long by 10am not one single aircraft but lots and lots of despairing phone calls. Thruxton was the only place to see the sun, the rest of Southern UK was completely fogged-in!

Things did of course brighten up eventually but a large number of pilots missed their slots and couldn't come. Frustrated pilots being what they are, were quick to suggest that the team staged another fly-in later in the year. After some hurried consultations an approach was made to Henstridge Airfield, (formerly RNAS HMS Dipper) and thanks to a positive response from manager, Joe Williams, the Saturday of the August Bank Holiday saw the first "Late Summer Fly-In".

This time the weather was much better and the day was such a success that, even before the last aircraft had departed, the decision was made to make it an annual event. Before long it had attracted the attention of the classic and vintage car owners, as well as the pilot community, and was officially renamed as "Wings & Wheels". Not the most original title but with around a hundred aeroplanes and a hundred vehicles what else could one call it?

The original volunteer team of "Vintage Flying" remained together for well over a decade. They developed The Great Vintage Flying Weekend into a three day spectacular and the largest show of its kind in Europe. In addition to that and Henstridge they staged two full air shows in Scotland and Devon, took selected groups of Aircraft to Cherbourg and to stately homes in the UK, and supported all three services with scores of pilots visiting the Royal Navy Air Day at Yeovilton, RAF Families Day at Lyneham and Benson and helped the Army Air Corps stage the commemorative events at Middle Wallop.

This year's "Wings & Wheels" will see again many of the original team in action along side the regular staff at Henstridge. Over the years they reckon to have instigated around 25,000 aircraft movements with an excellent safety record. It's a great record and they are delighted to support the Dorset and Somerset Air Ambulance, which is also based at Henstridge.

What about the wheels?

For the first couple of years the event was simply the "Late Summer Vintage and Classic Fly In". However the word soon got around among the vintage and classic car fraternity that it was something worth seeing, and a drive through the amazing Dorset and Somerset countryside, was worth doing. So the numbers of interesting vehicles began to grow.

Cars were joined by gleaming motorcycles and not so gleaming Jeeps and the occasional GMC "Deuce and a half". It wasn't long before these visitors occupied most of the grass area next to the club house and the words "Classic Cars" appeared on our posters. In the end we bowed to the inevitable and officially renamed the show as "Wings and Wheels" not a very original title perhaps, but it was hard to find a shorter way of saying it!

The show now features a regular gathering of around a hundred or so "Wheels" exhibitors. Together they represent a great cross section of our automotive history. Just as in the air park, the organisers follow the simple rule that "next in is next in line!". So on one side of the fence is a 1930s Tiger Moth parked next to a more modern Cessna, and on the other side of the fence an elderly Morris Minor is flanked by the Dorset Car Club and a Modern Jaguar.

A select few trade stands surround the car display area, offering a wide variety of gifts and historical memorabilia.

It is this informality that is part of the charm of Wings and Wheels at Henstridge for exhibitors and visitors alike. It's like a garden party, perhaps you would like to bring along your picnic?

"Officialdom" except for essential Health and Safety and Risk Avoidance, is most definitely left at the gates.

The Battle of Britain Memorial Flight

THE "Vintage Flying Team" have long enjoyed good relations with the RAF Events Team, formerly the Participation Committee, and the staff at BBMF Conningsby. Despite the ever increasing demand for RAF assets at a time when their actual number of display aircraft has dwindled to barely a handful – they still manage to squeeze Henstridge into their schedule.

Over the years they have had fly-past salutes from the fighters both individually and together, The Dakota, the Lancaster and of course that most popular sight of all, when the "Lanc" is accompanied by the Spitfire and Hurricane. This year's event will be a once in a life time spectacle as the famous trio will be joined by the only other airworthy Lancaster in the world, C-GVRA from Canada.

VERA as she is known is operated by the Canadian Warplane Heritage Museum and will spend most of August and September flying with the BBMF. Her presence will be in a living commemoration to the thousands of Commonwealth Aircrew who flew with Bomber Command in the Second World War.

Visitors to Wings and Wheels can expect to see and hear this unique "Ten Merlin Flight" in a way not possible at the usual airshows. Wings and Wheels has no full flying display and is therefore exempt from the usual stringent civil and military safety rules and guidelines. The organisers are naturally somewhat reticent about what one might expect. They simply state that it is advisable to look up as well as out!

Close up Viewing

WHEN the Vintage Flying Team took over GVFWE (Great Vintage Flying Weekend) they already had considerable experience of the necessary safety rules and regulations involved with air shows. It came as a bit of a shock to the team to find that there was nothing similar regarding "Fly-Ins" no matter how large or small.

It seems that everyone, pilots and public alike, simply looked out for themselves. Undeterred the team set down and produced their own documentation, from simple A4 guideline for stewards up to full Aerodrome and Crowd side Manuals, Risk Assessments and Emergency Operations Orders. All of which were duly approved by the CAA, local emergency services and local authorities.

None the less, it can all be summed up in the simple phrase, "People and Propellers don't mix".

Wings and Wheels at Henstridge follows exactly the same guidelines, but with much less paperwork. Visiting public on crowd side are fenced off from the arriving, taxiing and departing aircraft, which operate on Airside or Live Side. However the views are as good as they can be while all the airside activity is going on.

The unique attraction comes at lunchtime, when the barriers are quickly realigned by the team, and the public are encouraged to walk among the assembled aeroplanes. Many of the pilots stay with their aircraft and are happy to chat with dedicated enthusiasts or with Mums and Dads and kids.

On more than one occasion some lucky youngster has been helped into the cockpit of a fragile biplane "Even older than Granddad!"

There are few rules, except no smoking, no litter and no touching, take only memories and photographs and leave only foot prints.

Clear announcements and gentle shepherding by the stewards ensures that everyone returns safely back to crowd side before the props start turning for the flights home.

WIN a Flight in a War Time Tiger Moth

The publishers of View From newspapers are delighted to be able to offer you the chance to win a unique and exciting prize. In conjunction with the organisers of Wings and Wheels at Henstridge Airfield, we have arranged a one-off Air Experience Flight in one of the world's best known and most loved aeroplanes, the legendary de Havilland Tiger Moth, which first flew in 1931.

Your aircraft will be one of the three genuine World War Two trainers which are now fully restored and operated by the airfield based Tiger Moth Training Company, www.tigermothtraining.co.uk. Tigers were the basic trainers used by all the services and were often the first aeroplanes to be handled by our Battle of Britain pilots and also by those who went on to fly bombers like the mighty Lancasters that will be making an appearance at Wings and Wheels at Henstridge.

Your prize will also include an all in car pass (maximum 5 adults) so your friends and family can watch you take to the skies. In addition there will be 4 more all in car passes (maximum 5 adults) for the runners up.

To be among our lucky winners your entry must be the first correct entry drawn on our closing date of Friday, 15th August 2014.

Just answer the simple questions and return to our offices: c/o Rob Coombe, Wings & Wheels competition, View From Newspapers, Unit 3 St Michael's Business Centre, Church Street, Lyme Regis, Dorset, DT7 3DB before the closing date of Friday, 15th August 2014. Winners will be picked at random, editors decision is final.

Q1. In what year did the Tiger Moth first fly?

Q2. What was the ship's name of Henstridge in its Naval role?

Q3. What special aircraft is due to appear with the BBMF?

Dorset and Somerset Air Ambulance is YOUR service – provided for people in YOUR area – with YOUR support.

THEY are a registered charity, established to provide relief from sickness and injury for the people of Dorset and Somerset, by the provision of an air ambulance. They receive no direct funding from the Government or the National Lottery and rely entirely on the generosity of the public for support.

Since their launch in March 2000 they have attended thousands of incidents. They are tasked by the Ambulance Service through the normal '999' emergency process and can attend up to eight or nine incidents in a single day during the summer months.

They operate a Eurocopter EC135 helicopter from their airbase at Henstridge on the Dorset / Somerset border. From there, they can be at any point in the two counties within 19 minutes. More importantly, the helicopter can then take a patient to any one of the Major Trauma Centres in the south west within a further 20 minutes.

Thousands of people's lives have been changed thanks to the provision of the service and it is with thanks to YOU, that they continue to fly.

Providing a rapid transfer to the 'right' facility is a key factor in a patient's survival and recovery rate. Although we fly regularly to many local hospitals, there is often a case to transfer a patient to a specialist unit or one of the Major Trauma Centres in the South West. These local and specialist hospitals are listed below:

LOCAL HOSPITAL

- Dorset County Hospital– Dorchester*
- Musgrove Park Hospital– Taunton*
- Poole Hospital
- Royal Bournemouth General Hospital*
- Royal Devon & Exeter – Exeter*
- Royal United Hospital – Bath*
- Salisbury District Hospital
- Yeovil District Hospital

- Weston General Hospital*

* These hospitals have a helicopter landing site adjacent to A&E. Others require a vehicle transfer from a local landing site.

MAJOR TRAUMA CENTRES

- Frenchay Hospital, Bristol
- University Hospital, Southampton
- Derriford Hospital, Plymouth
- Specialist Burns Unit, Morriston Hospital – Swansea

The Operational costs are £1.7 million a year, which equates to over £2,500 per mission. With public support they are also able to purchase specialist pieces of equipment that aid the paramedics' training and help to save lives across the two counties.

The Dorset and Somerset Air Ambulance have changed literally thousands of people's lives. In 2013 alone they attended 608 incidents and have now flown nearly 10,000 missions since their launch in March 2000. Every one of the missions they fly is the result of somebody suffering a potentially life-threatening injury or accident and it is not a number that they celebrate. It simply demonstrates the need for an Air Ambulance that services the counties of Dorset and Somerset.

Dorset and Somerset Air Ambulance rely on fundraising and donations to keep flying. It is with thanks to the people who support the Charity that they can continue to provide such an important service. Please come and enjoy the Wings and Wheels event at their airbase at Henstridge Airfield.

SON YAMBU BRING THE REAL SOUND OF CUBA TO BRIDPORT

SON Yambu Salsa are headed to Bridport Arts Centre with their authentic 'Son Cubano' - a fusion of Spanish and African rhythms that is the root of all salsa music.

This is a group of musicians who are passionate about continuing the Buena Vista legacy that put Cuban music back on the map. Most of the band hail from Cuba and will be playing the Afro-Cuban music that originated in the streets of eastern Cuba at the turn of the last century.

On vocals, and minor percussion, Yuri is an accomplished international singer, having performed with the likes of Cachaito of the Buena Vista Social Club. She is a born entertainer, and aficionados have likened her to a young Celia Cruz. Also on vocals and percussion are Tony Danger and Jose Cascaret both wonderful 'soneros' from Santiago De Cuba. The brilliant Manuel Alejandro Tellez on tré and backing vocals is another high-class performer.

Yambu's rhythm section boasts the extraordinary talents of Reynaldo Crespo on Guitar, Oscar Vazquez Romero on bass, Rene 'Menique' Savigne on congas and Toby Herschmann on timbales. They're the force that drives the music along. And soaring above it all, there's the trumpet of virtuoso Victor Hechevarria who has toured world wide with several renowned Cuban bands and is an ex-member of the Santiago Symphony Orchestra.

Playing their irresistible tropical rhythms, they bring their audiences a truly sensational, authentic Latin-music experience.

Sean Rafferty of BBC Radio 3 said: 'absolutely tremendous.... if you don't start to move to this there is no hope for you! Extraordinary music.'

Son Yambu perform at the Bridport Arts Centre on Saturday, August 9th at 8pm. Tickets: £12/£11/£10 from Bridport Arts Centre box office 01308 424204 or www.bridport-arts.com

The modern Hendrix?

BLUES ROCK GUITAR QUEEN CHANTEL MCGREGOR AT THE PALACE

IMAGINE the tone of Robin Trower, the inspiration of Hendrix, the influence of Stevie Ray Vaughan, the energy of Bonamassa, the intensity of Walter Trout and the haunting vocal of Stevie Nicks all rolled into one... then let us introduce Chantel McGregor, one of the most exciting rock and blues musicians in the UK!

At the age of eight Chantel became the youngest person in the country to pass a Rock school exam and at 12, she was jamming in her native Bradford and evolving into an incredible musician.

Described as a prodigy, at 14 Chantel was told by major labels "great voice, but girls don't play guitar like that!" Wisely ignoring that advice, she enrolled at the world-renowned Leeds College of Music and became the first student in the college's history, to achieve a 100% pass mark, with 18 distinctions. Chantel left with a First Class Honours degree in Popular Music and a coveted prize, for outstanding musicianship.

Chantel has since stepped out in the professional musician world and her stunning live performances are proving that this is rock blues for the new age, played by a musician born with an effortless virtuosity, peppered by flights of incendiary guitar and flanked by moments of poise, grace and fluidity...

Chantel McGregor plays at the Electric Palace, Bridport, on Thursday, September 11th at 7.30pm. Tickets are £12+bf in advance, or £14 on the door. For more details or tickets call Bridport TIC on 01308 424901 or visit www.electricpalace.org.uk

Demon Barbers' Maverick Musical Mash-Up

FOLK-HIP HOPPERS PLAY AT THE MARINE THEATRE AS PART OF LYME FOLK WEEKEND

LYME Folk Weekend promises a full-on finale at the end of the month with a maverick musical mash up from riotous folk troubadours, Demon Barbers XL, who'll bring their unique folk-hip hop extravaganza to Lyme Regis for the first time. Their no-holds-barred performance will combine traditional folk music and dance with body popping, break dancing and acrobatics.

As one of the best live acts on the folk circuit they'll present their award-winning road show with characteristic northern chutzpah marrying the traditions of fiddle and accordion with electric bass guitar, drums and synthesizer.

Such is their reputation as live performers, the BBC tipped them as one of the must-see acts at this year's Glastonbury Festival, where they rocked opening and closing sets with their musical gymnastics. Frontman Damien Barber admits "on stage there's a lot going on and audiences are never quite sure what to expect. We started out as a five-piece band, plus Morris, clog and sword dancers, but we've now added hip-hop dancers and a scratch DJ to the mix".

Julie Sheppard, the festival's publicist said "The best way to describe Demon Barbers? Morris dancing meets MC Hammer? They've taken the best traditions of English folk music and dance but given it a hip hop twist. It shouldn't really work, but it really does. It's fast, furious and fun".

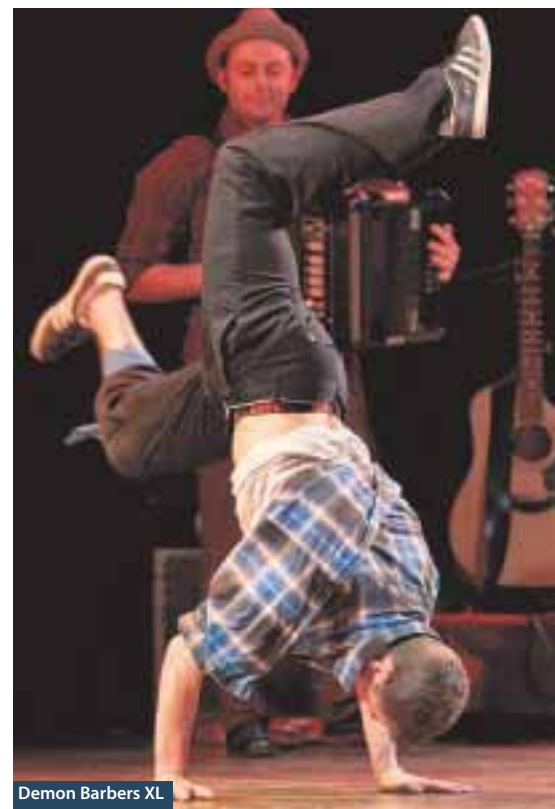

She continued: "If I was to recommend one show to catch over the entire weekend, then it would be this one. Whether you're 8 or 80, it will raise your eyebrows and it might even blow your mind. It'll be a spectacular finale to this year's folk festival".

Demon Barbers XL play at the Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis on Sunday, August 31st at 5pm. Tickets £15 (standing), £19 (seated). 16 and under £10/£14. Tickets from www.lymefolk.com or 01297 442138 (Lyme Regis Tourist Information Centre, Church Street, Lyme Regis).

A British Woman on the Eastern Front

A talk by Dr Angela K Smith at Dorset County Museum

DORSET Woman at War, the current exhibition at Dorset County Museum, features the exploits of a remarkable Dorset woman, Mabel Stobart. On Thursday, August 7th at 7.30pm, Dr Angela K Smith will give an illustrated talk about Stobart and other British women who served on the Eastern Front during the First World War.

In October 1915, Mabel St Clair Stobart led her First Serbian-English Field Hospital along the Serbian front line. But the line was retreating; the combined forces of the Austrian, German and now the Bulgarian armies was more than the Serb soldiers could deal with, exhausted as they were from four years of war. As the retreat escalated into a mass exodus of soldiers and civilians, headed for the mountains of Montenegro and Albania, Stobart's unit went with them.

But Stobart's journey into war began several years earlier, on the cliffs above Studland Bay in Dorset, where she set up her first medical training camp. Recently returned from South Africa, and widowed, Stobart had been attracted to the movement for Women's Suffrage, but had her own ideas about how the vote might best be won. And what better way than demonstrating that women could perform as well as men on the field of battle? Stobart determined to bring everyone in her unit through the retreat from Serbia alive: against all the odds, she did. This lecture examines how she achieved this, and the wider implications for the Dorset woman.

Angela Smith is an Associate Professor at Plymouth University. She specialises in war writing, with a particular interest in the First World War and gender issues. Her latest monograph, Women of the Eastern Front: British Women in Serbia and Russia 1914-19 will be published in 2015.

Entry to the talk is free but donations are encouraged. Doors are open at 7pm; the lecture will commence at 7.30pm. A Dorset Woman at War continues until November 15th. On October 16th the Museum will host a play-reading by the New Hardy Players of a play written by Guy du Maurier. Tickets for the play-reading cost £10 and are available now from the Museum Shop.

Nothe Fort's Sound and Light Spectacular

NOTHE Fort is to host a Son et Lumiere Sound and Light Spectacular on September 10th - 13th September. This will portray the maritime history of Weymouth and Portland from the Armada to the Olympics, including such events as the arrival of the plague, smugglers and wreckers, the visits by George III and the building of the Portland breakwater and Palmerston Forts. It will move on to World War I and II, the Navy Days in the 50s and 60s, the work of the Lifeboat and end with an Olympic runner and the entire cast on stage singing Land of Hope and Glory, while the fireworks go up.

This is a community play, produced by Martine Burt with actors and singers from Weymouth Drama Club, WOW, Weymouth Junior Drama Club and Weymouth Operatic Society. Dancers from Quay Theatre Arts and Dorchester Jive Club and additional singing from the Dorset Wrecks as well of course as the Fort's own Artillery.

The open air play will be performed on the Parade Ground, with action also taking place on the Ramparts and staircase with amazing lighting effects. Add to this some poignant readings and atmospheric music and this shall be an event that is totally unique and a first for Weymouth. Organisers are receiving a huge amount of interest and expect to sell in excess of 2,000 tickets over the four night run.

BURTON BRADSTOCK FESTIVAL OF MUSIC AND ART

THE Burton Bradstock Festival of Music and Art begins its feast of music and art on Sunday, August 10th with the opening of the Art exhibition at 10am until 5pm in the Village Hall, just by the green in the centre of Burton Bradstock. Everything is for sale in this wonderful exhibition of paintings and ceramics by local West Dorset artists, both amateur and professional. Passing holiday makers enjoy it during the day and the concert goers enjoy it with their interval drinks in the evenings!

Also on Sunday is a fun workshop for children at 11.30 am by the group Kosmos, in the Rectory Garden, followed by the ever popular - and free, Tea Party in the afternoon.

Kosmos play again on Monday 11th, with the first of the main concerts in the lovely St Mary's Church at 7 pm. Back by popular request, their wild mixture of gypsy, tango, Jewish, Turkish and Greek melodies, are all improvised to make jazz-folk of great style and panache.

They are followed on Tuesday 12th, at 7pm by jazz of the cooler sort with the legendary Jacquie Dankworth singing with three brilliant jazz musicians, David Gordon on piano, Sandy Burnett on bass and cellist Ben Davis.

Wednesday 13th has a lovely chamber concert with a Kreisler string quartet that's a lilting farewell to Vienna and Mozart's sublime string quintet in C. But interspersed with Craig Ogden, the festival's favourite guitarist, playing Boccherini and Iain Grandage. Craig is playing at lunchtime the same day with his wife, mezzo- soprano Claire Bradshaw in the church at 1 pm, with Spanish songs by de Falla and Rodrigo's Concierto de Aranjuez.

Claire Bradshaw is also starring in the concert on Thursday evening August 14th which is reflecting on World War 1. Claire will be singing popular wartime songs to contrast with Ravel's Le Tombeau de Couperin for fallen friends, and Strauss's amazing masterpiece Metamorphosen, described by some as one of the most beautiful and evocative pieces of music written in the 20th Century!

Friday 15th is the main gala concert with Handel's Concerto Grosso, a flute concerto by CPE Bach and then things to make you dance! Bartok's Romanian Dances, and some pieces a little more modern to finish the evening. One is Momentum Suite by local composer Peter Hope and his Bramall Hall Dances are also being played in the late night concert on Thursday.

The Art Exhibition continues until Sunday, August 17th in the Village Hall and entry is free.

Tickets for the festival are available from Gill Redford 01308 897203. Check out the website for details: burtonbradstockfestival.com

Vinyl Saturday is back

THE continuing upsurge in vinyl records fostered by a large number of radio and tv shows on the listening pleasure of records, should come as no surprise to Dorset, Somerset and Devon music fans, with a number of new record shops opening throughout the area and Bridport becoming established as "The Hay-On-Wye" type town for Record and CD Buyers with its quarterly Vinyl Saturday Record and CD Fair and many shops around the town plus a number of Saturday and Wednesday Market stalls also selling records and cds.

Vinyl Saturday Bridport started in November 2008 at the dawn of the renaissance of renewed interest in vinyl records made Bridport the first town in the UK and probably Europe to recognise it and offer music fans the opportunity to buy find and buy vinyl records again and other music related items all in one town. The event was that successful that in the following year - The world's leading authority on all things vinyl Record Collector Magazine recognised it as Fair of the year with the event being fully supported by the Town Council, Tourist Board, Shops and Bridport Market Traders for bringing visitors to the area.

The next Vinyl Saturday Bridport event on 16th August also takes place during Bridports Carnival weekend, and includes the quarterly record and cd fair which is held in Bridport United Church, East St, DT6 3LJ from 10am to 4pm, admission £1.

Did Nothing Go BANG?

The middle of the season with Tierra Kitchen's

award-winning chef Mark Evans

IT'S the school holidays and the middle of the "season" in Lyme Bay. This means an annual invasion of brilliant produce, as well as thousands of visitors, and boy it's busy; the beach on Red Arrows day in Lyme Regis resembled a scene from the Normandy landings, with people, tents and debris covering practically every inch of the beach!

This of course is great for our local economy, and what a great time to showcase the amazing local produce on offer as we get to the height of the growing season too. And it's crazy early this year with all that

southerly hot pressure, we are only in early August and will be using local plums, elderberries and rowan (October mountain ash?!) this week.

It is one of the great pleasures of being a veggie chef to be totally confused as to what to put on the menu, such is the richness and diversity of the local produce available right now. Local stores and markets are bustling; Trill Farm are back on a Saturday in Coombe street, Miller's Farm Shop are awash with Forde Abbey fruits, and I love Axminster market on a Thursday.

We are going to continue our chilled soup season with more predicted hot weather. Gazpacho (recipe opposite) has proved to be very popular in late July with fantastic local tomatoes now available. This week we will try a chilled local Courgette, Lemon grass and Summer savory soup. Next month it's all about wild food again with more all family squirrel like fun gathering and storing sloes, rosehips and hopefully the first early Autumn mushrooms.

Make it yourself...

Gazpacho

TASTES have changed enormously over the last ten years or so (probably together with the climate), making Gazpacho ever more popular in the UK. This recipe has a slight twist as it includes roasted red peppers and raspberry vinegar, the result is a more piquant, slightly fruitier and less garlicky soup. Red chilli croutons give it a nice added texture.

Serves six

Ingredients

- 300gm red peppers seeded, pithed and cut into quarters
- 20gm olive oil, sea salt and half a lemon, sliced for roasting the peppers
- 500gm ripe vine/quality tomatoes, washed and cut into eighths
- 1 large red onion, diced
- 4 cloves garlic, finely chopped
- 2 medium red chillies, seeded and fine chopped
- 25gm fresh basil leaves, roughly chopped
- 25gm mint leaves, roughly chopped
- 1 level teaspoon good sea salt
- 2 level teaspoon's caster sugar
- 1 lemon, juiced
- 25ml raspberry vinegar
- 200gm fresh peas in pods (80gm shelled), to garnish
- 1 small cucumber chopped into 1cm square chunks, to garnish

Equipment needed

- A blender

Method

Pre heat oven to 150 degrees C.

Baste the peppers with the olive oil, a little sea salt and the chopped lemon, roast without colour for 20 to 30 minutes so just cooked through and tender. Allow to cool for 20 minutes, then roughly chop.

In a large bowl mix together all the ingredients with the cooked, chopped peppers, cover and marinate in the fridge for at least 2 hours (we like to marinate ours overnight at the restaurant, when time allows).

Blend all the ingredients together. Degree of blending depends on taste, we tend to blend until smooth and add the peas and cucumber raw to add texture. In Spain Gazpacho is a little more chunky and rustic. Serve now, while very fresh.

To prepare the croutons; De-seed and chop 4 medium red chillies, then blend with 100gm rapeseed oil. Baste some small chunks of bread in the oil and cook at a low temperature in the oven, IE 120 degrees C for approx. 20 to 30 minutes or until crispy.

Because she's SHAPPI

STAR of Live At The Apollo, Michael McIntyre's Comedy Roadshow, Friday Night with Jonathan Ross, Have I Got News for You and Q.I., Shappi Khorsandi is back with a brand new show for 2014, and heads to Dorchester as part of the tour.

After being knocked up like a 1950s teenager she missed 2013, but now she is back and it's forward march. Reflecting on the good things, she celebrates her haphazard, zigzag towards her dreams. She introduces us to friends, family and total strangers who have helped her on her personal Yellow Brick Road.

She has whip-crack jokes and is effortlessly funny as she handles every subject with a razor sharp wit, softened only by her deliciously mischievous delivery and endless charm. Shappi Khorsandi is also the best selling author of 'A Beginners Guide to Acting English' by Bloomsbury out now in paperback.

Shappi Khorsandi performs at Dorchester Corn Exchange on Friday, October 17th, with doors and bar opening at 7.30pm. Tickets are £14 or £12 for members of Dorchester Arts and concessions.

To book call 01305 266926 or visit the website at www.dorchesterarts.org.uk

Illyria Theatre Company
presents Robin Hood
Open Air Theatre on The Millennium Green

YOU'LL definitely laugh and you'll probably cry when Illyria perform Robin Hood on the Millennium Green on Friday, August 15th, 7pm.

Adapted from the earliest Robin Hood ballads, written in fast-moving, easy-to-follow verse, and introducing all the well-loved characters such as Little John and Friar Tuck, these are tales of camaraderie and swashbuckling action.

Robert Fitzooth, Earl of Huntingdon, is arrested for disrupting the peace on the day of his marriage to Marian Fitzwater. But he evades capture and hides out in Sherwood Forest with a band of outlaws under the assumed name of Robin Hood.

Grab a picnic basket and a blanket and expect riotous comedy and an archery competition involving the entire audience.

Tickets: £15/£14 members/£12 concessions £8 child from the Bridport Arts Centre website at www.bridport-arts.com or the Arts Centre box office on 01308 424204. Limited tickets will be available on the gates.

YAWL CRESCENT, UPLYME - £325,000

SITUATED between the coastal town of Lyme Regis and the market town of Axminster this stylish detached bungalow has pleasant westerly views over its garden and neighbouring woodland. The bungalow has been extensively modernised to create a contemporary style with a light open plan living area and New England blue external cladding. In addition the property now benefits from a new oil fired central heating system, UPVC double glazed windows, limed oak effect laminate flooring and updated wiring. The bungalow has a large roof space and planning permission to extend to the rear to provide additional accommodation details of which can be found on the EDDC planning website.

Uplyme offers facilities for everyday requirements, including The Talbot Arms public house, Petrol Station with convenience shop and post office. There is a lovely church, village hall, cricket club, playing fields, tennis court and popular primary school. The market town of Axminster, with its main railway connection to Waterloo (approximately 2 3/4 hours), is about 5 miles to the West and Bridport is some 11 miles to the East. The coastal resort of Lyme Regis, with all the day to day amenities one could require, is about 1 mile away and has recently been designated a World Heritage Site (commonly known as the Jurassic Coast). The renowned Dorset and South Devon Coastal Path can also be joined at Lyme Regis. Taunton and Exeter are within a radius of about 30 miles, each with access to the M5 motorway. The county town of Dorchester is a similar distance away. The village is in the catchment area for Colyton Grammar School and the Woodroffe School.

New 9G-Tronic Gearbox, More Power and Lower Emissions For E-Class Range

FROM September there will be a number of changes for the E-Class range, including the introduction of the new 9G-Tronic gearbox, new standard equipment, more power and lower emissions. Mercedes-Benz developed the 9G-Tronic gearbox in-house and will be twinned with the E 350 BlueTEC engine in the Saloon, Estate, Coupé and Cabriolet.

The pairing brings a significant reduction of up to 17 g/km of CO2 emissions which now start from 136 g/km for the Coupé, 139 g/km for the Saloon, 142 g/km for the Estate and 143 g/km for the Cabriolet. Power has also been increased to a total of 258 hp (+6hp).

At the same time the E 220 BlueTEC will see an increase in power to 177 hp (+7hp), with a reduction in CO2 emissions of up to 16 g/km whilst still being paired with the 7G-Tronic transmission. The E 220 BlueTEC SE Saloon now boasts the lowest CO2 emissions of the range at 116 g/km. Capacity of the E 400 AMG Sport will be known moving forward as the E 400 AMG Line and capacity of the V6 will increase for both the Coupé and Cabriolet to 3,498 cc, again with lower emissions of up to 17 g/km.

Collision Prevention Assist Plus will be fitted as standard to every E-Class Saloon, Estate, Coupé and Cabriolet to reduce the impact of rear-end collisions. The system provides visual and acoustic warnings when a head-on collision is imminent. The adaptive brake boosting effect and activation of Pre-Safe® take place when the driver applies the brake, and if the driver fails to respond autonomous braking will be activated at speeds up to 62 mph to reduce the severity of a collision with slower or stopping vehicles.

The system can also brake in response to stationary vehicles at speeds up to 30 mph and prevent rear-end collisions at speeds of up to 24 mph.

A Premium and Premium Plus Package will also be available offering customers added value of up to 27 per cent over purchasing each item separately. The Premium Package for the Saloon includes a Panoramic Glass Sunroof, Memory Package, Rear Split Folding Seats, and a Reversing Camera for £2,695 while the Premium Plus Package adds Keyless-GO Comfort Pack and a Harman Kardon® sound system for £3,895. Costs for the Estate are £2,395 and £3,495 for the Premium and Premium Plus Packages respectively, as they already have the split folding seats and powered tailgate as standard.

Fantastic '64-Plate' Offers From Peugeot: There's Never Been a Better Time to Buy

▲ Fantastic '64-Plate' offers from PEUGEOT

WITH one of the youngest new car ranges on the market, offering an appealing mix of sophisticated style and value for money, there's never been a better time to buy a PEUGEOT.

With the launch of the new 64-registration plate, the Brand's Dealers are bracing themselves for a busy August and September – and PEUGEOT have announced a range of attractive offers to further boost showroom traffic.

Thanks to the debut of the PEUGEOT 308 – the reigning European Car of the Year – as well as the continued success of the 208 Supermini and 2008 Compact Crossover, PEUGEOT retail sales are up 17.5% year-to-date (YTD), in a market that is 13.9% up YTD, compared with 2013. The arrival of the all-new PEUGEOT 108 in showrooms is expected to enhance Dealer performance even more, and strengthen PEUGEOT's visibility in the vital city car segment.

The all-new PEUGEOT 108, that characterful new urban runabout that went on sale from 1st July, opens a new chapter for PEUGEOT small cars. High on style, bristling with connected technology and fun to drive, it's available with a TOP! Cabrio retractable roof and takes personalisation to a new level.

Significant demand for the 108 will come via the brand's unique Just Add Fuel initiative (JAF), the three-year low-APR personal lease which rolls all the customer's monthly costs into one easy payment. JAF includes insurance, road tax, warranty, servicing and roadside assistance.

Industry experts also believe the 108 will hold its value exceptionally well, with CAP Monitor releasing a three years/30,000 miles prediction that's up 42% on the outgoing PEUGEOT 107. The result is highly competitive customer pricing. A PEUGEOT 108 Access three-door costs just £89 a month – almost £20 less than the equivalent 107.

Demand for the critically acclaimed PEUGEOT 208 shows no sign of slowing. With YTD sales of more than 10,000 units, it's currently the 5th best-selling retail car in the UK and ahead of some very reputable competition.

Proving particularly popular is the 208 Style, a high-specification special edition which includes desirable standard equipment such as satellite navigation, Cielo panoramic glass roof and rear parking sensors. It's available for only £169 per month. For performance car fans, there's the PEUGEOT 208 GTi, available on JAF for only £259 per month.

The versatile PEUGEOT 2008 offers an attractive combination of high specification, low Recommended Retail Price and competitive 5.9% APR finance packages.

As an extra incentive for 64-plate customers, there is a £500 deposit contribution from PEUGEOT on Active trim level models and £650 on Allure and Feline.

The same APR and Deposit Contribution from PEUGEOT is also available on the PEUGEOT 308 and 308 SW. Demand has been strong for both models, leading to a 30% YTD increase in retail sales. The 308 boasts class-leading engines, with CO2 emissions as low as 85g/km and fuel economy of up to 88mpg, giving it considerable appeal in the highly competitive company car segment.

Neil Moscrop, Director of Sales, PEU-

GEOT UK, commented: "In a retail market that is up almost 14%, our result is very impressive and we're delighted by it. We're looking to continue our retail growth in September and our strategy for retail sales is very simple. We have very competitive list prices that are lower than the sector average for each of our models. We also have a higher specification than the sector average and we try to be transparent in the way we treat our customers."

For more information on all of PEUGEOT's summer offers and Just Add Fuel across the range, visit: www.PEUGEOT.co.uk.

West Dorset complete season undefeated

WEST Dorset's Under14/15 cricketers capped an undefeated season with contrasting wins last week.

East Dorset 122-9 lost to West Dorset 131-6 by nine runs

WEST beat a strong East team in a thriller at Parley in a game that highlighted the emerging talent from around the county.

Electing to bat West were soon in trouble losing Rob Frampton for a duck in the second over.

However, fellow opener J Elwood (30) and West skipper T Blair (19) steadied the ship with a patient stand as East keep the run rate down with accurate bowling and sharp work in the field.

Good knocks from Will Morgan (23), Ben Macklin (16) and a cultured 36 not out from Joe James enabled the West to post 131 from their 30 overs.

The East began slowly against a well-drilled West attack which gave away nothing in the field and had the hosts struggling to score runs. Frampton removed the dangerous S Hopkins (20) via an excellent catch from Macklin before striking twice more, dismissing the East's 4 and 5 for ducks as he finished with match figures of 3-0-10-3.

Useful knocks from N Blackford (14no), B Fletcher (13no) and a hard hitting 29 from J. Markham kept the East in the game as the match headed for a thrilling climax, but it was the West who held their nerve with an outstanding display in the field which included four superb catches from Ollie Osbourne.

West Dorset 214 all out beat

South Dorset 113 all out by 101 runs

LOOKING to complete an undefeated season, the West took on the South at Redlands and once again produced an emphatic display to cap an outstanding season under joint coaches Dave Trotter and Grant Neven.

Batting first, a cultured and natural innings of 107 not out from Robbie Frampton, laid the foundations of a large total from their allocated 30 overs.

The West did not have it all their own way as the South battled hard in the field and it was only a last wicket stand of 84 between Frampton and the hard hitting Tom Chedzoy (32) who was stumped off the last ball of the innings, that pushed the West's total up to 214.

In reply the South found runs hard to come by as the West yet again produced the goods in the field.

Useful knocks from Morridife (48) and L Brindley (27no) kept the South in the match, but the impressive West kept the pressure on as the run rate climbed.

Will Morgan capped a good all round display taking the last wicket via a sharp stumping from Macklin to seal victory and the district honours.

Trotter and Neven paid tribute to their charges and thanked all the parents who had shown brilliant support throughout the season.

Trotter said: "Both Grant and myself are proud as punch. To go the season undefeated against strong opposition is a tribute to the hard work and commitment shown by all the squad.

"They have been an absolute pleasure to coach, and represented their district with pride."

Neven echoed his sentiments and wished the boys who will not be with the squad next year, all the best in the future.

"It is unfortunate that we will lose two or three outstanding talents next year, but these boys will go on into adult cricket and will be major assets for their clubs."

Draper wins Captain's Day

ANDY Draper overcame very warm conditions to win Charminster's Captain's Day by a point.

The format for club captain Brian Frampton's competition was stableford and in a close finish it was Draper playing off a handicap of 20 that took the prize with 42 points.

He held off Lopez Shackelford, playing off 14 handicap and 28 handicapper Hugh McCowan by a point, the former taking second on countback.

The captain thanked those who had sponsored the event and for all the assistance, in particular club secretary Ray Walker and committee members Colin Davis and John Robinson.

The President's Putter, a three club plus putter competition was won by Nigel Barter with a nett 67. Charlie Dunn took the runner's up spot from Mac Butler on countback, both scoring nett 69's.

Seniors captain John Robinson won the first competition of July, the Wednesday Medal with 90/25/65. Countback separated him from second placed Jules Walker with 78/13/65, but both were awarded a one shot handicap cut. Alan Delahaye took third place with 90/22/68.

Walker did not need countback however in the Sunday Medal as he took first place outright. His score of 80/12/68 bettered that of Draper who had 89/20/69. Brian Drammis came third with his score of 81/11/70.

The players in the Wednesday stableford competed for the Bob Campbell trophy. The winner was Bob Irwin who amassed 42 points from his 26 handicap. The runner up was the everpresent Walker followed by Barry Rutherford.

The Three Counties League team struggled away to Wincanton on a very hot day and were beaten 6-0.

The seniors played three matches. At home against Kingweston they won 4½ - 1½, and 6-0 against Parley Court. However away Folke they lost 5-2.

Dorchester & District Boxing Club

Club pay tribute to late boxer at awards night

TRIBUTES were paid to the late Kieron Clewett at Dorchester & District ABC's annual AGM and Trophy Presentation evening recently.

The talented and popular teenager was remembered with a minute's applause led by Steve Scott the club's former chair before proceedings began. He then read a few of the tributes that had been received with many happy memories recalled on the night, especially how he mended disputes with jokes, getting everyone working together.

"He loved his boxing and his untouchable, unpredictable speed and approach gave him the well deserved title of King of the Ring."

Kevin Hay then Head Coach of the Bristol Boxing Academy recognized Clewett's rare potential with a view to push him forwards for future recognition to join the England Boxing Squad.

The club's head coach Ben Geyser took delight in reminding him not to forget the club when he was famous.

Parents Miriam and Barry and his sister Amelia all expressed how they desperately missed Kieron, and presented a new trophy, The Kieron Clewett Memorial Trophy to the club in his memory which was won by Sol Gilday-Evans.

John Manly representing sponsors Moxom's Joinery, who boxed as a young man and has avidly followed the success of the club, said that he was glad to see that his sponsorship was not being wasted.

"I can see that all the boxers have an appetite to succeed and shine in the ring. It's a pity that the awards have been whittled down to those who have braved the championships and boxing ring because everyone here tonight deserves to be applauded; you have to be a tough cookie to take up the demanding regime to become a boxer."

Coach Geyser added: "Every member plays a part in the smooth running of the club."

"On behalf of the coaches, committee, sponsors and parents, we thank you all very much indeed."

"We also thank John Manly for presenting the shield that he held for several years, of which which Kieron won from 2011-2013."

"Also thanks to Barry and Miriam Clewett for the beautiful trophy and all the help and sponsorship that they have provided."

On the award of the new trophy, Geyser said it had been a hard task for the committee to judge as many deserved special recognition, but had a special word of praise for the outstanding performances of Gilday-Evans.

"He has won two well deserved trophies, and battled through numerous ABA Championships each year which is a superb achievement."

"His enthusiasm has sparked such an interest within the club that several boxers want to follow suit and enter the championships alongside him this season."

Great show by Weymouth schools at county tournament

WEYMOUTH schools featured well in the Dorset School Games Table Tennis Tournament held recently in Bournemouth.

Budmouth sent four teams with Snigdha Maganti and Erin Stow winning the gold medal in the Girls U14 event whilst Harriet Pullen and Saffy Taylor-Sprakes took the bronze.

Weymouth completed a clean sweep with April Heasman and Mya Williams from Wey Valley splitting the Budmouth teams and taking silver.

Jamie Blair and Louie James also took gold for Budmouth when winning the Boys U12 event, with their schoolmates Will Jolliffe and Ethan Gear taking silver in the Boys U14 tournament.

This pair came so close to breaking the domination of Harewood College; going down 2-3 in a final that could have gone either way; proving that the gap between Bournemouth and Weymouth in the boy's events is closing every year.

Cricket - A View From the boundary

Chase puts Dorchester to the sword

MARTINSTOWN took the honours in the battle for promotion to Premier 1 when they won the local derby against Dorchester by four wickets with Ryan Chase claiming a "fifer".

Meanwhile another "fifer"; this time by Weymouth's Dave Trotter the veteran seamer, put the brakes on Wimborne & Colehill's attempts to overhaul Weymouth, and led the way to victory by eight runs and a place in the Premier 1 play-offs.

James Pretty completed a trio of bowlers caliming a five wicket haul, as he helped Charlton Down to victory, leaving them requiring one win from their remaining three games to ensure back-to-back promotions.

Dorset Funeral Plan League
Premier League 1*WEYMOUTH 207-4 BEAT*WIMBORNE & COLEHILL 199-8 BY 8 RUNS

DAVE Trotter produced an inspired piece of bowling to stop Wimborne & Colehill's charge to victory and ensure Weymouth contested the championship play-off.

The Seasideers had set the visitors 208 to win after great knocks from Jim Ryall (67) and Dean Janaway (46) and another solid performance from Simon Browne who finished unbeaten on 34 not out.

The visitors got off to a great start in reply and had 58 on the board after just eight overs, but the introduction of seamers Trotter and Browne quickly turned the game Weymouth's way.

Although Browne was not rewarded for ten tight overs that only conceded 17 runs, Trotter ran riot and his 5-17 saw the Minstermen wanting 14 off the last over to win.

They managed seven before Harry Tucker (3-34) got the better of skipper James Miller as he went for the big one.

The win ensures Weymouth of a top four place and a tilt at the championship

◆ STEADYING INFLUENCE: Jim Ryall's 67 helped put Weymouth in a good position in the Premier 1 play-offs against Poole Town, Parley and Broadstone.

Premier League 2MARTINSTOWN 143-6 BEAT*DORCHESTER 142 ALL OUT BY 4 WICKETS

VICTORY in this top of the table clash sees Martinstown go into the promotion play-off games with a 20 point advantage over the county town.

Winning the toss on a near perfect wicket, Dorchester elected to bat, but lost both openers, Pete Moxom (11) and Marcus Evans (3) with the score on 15-2. It got worse when Fegus Guppy (0) became Stuart Fry's second victim (2-8) on 20-3, but skipper Dan Belt (31) and Eamonn Scott steadied the boat with a stand 79 for the fourth wicket.

The breakthrough came when Ryan Chase bowled Belt with an absolute "jaffa" and then removed Dan Morris in his next over to leave Dorchester 100-5.

Scott farmed the ball scoring 38 of the next 41 runs, but the loss of the last four wickets for just one including the Aussie for a superb 82, left Dorchester 142 all out with Chase claiming 5-27 from his seven overs, and Liam Banfield (2-23).

The backbone to Martinstown's winning score was an unbeaten half century from skipper Ed Nichols; the opener carrying his bat for 56.

Despite losing Dave Herbert for a duck, support from Sam Kershaw (11) and Fry (13), all victims of Scott (3-33) took their score to 69-3 although they then lost Jack James (0) on the same score.

Nichols found an ally in Ross Stewart (31), but his dismissal and that of Chase two balls later left the game in the balance at 113-6; Chase falling to an extraordinary dismissal. His firm defence of Belt's delivery hitting the bowler's boot on his follow through and flying to Pete Moxom at second slip who took the catch.

However Banfield decided to try and get the job done quickly and his unbeaten 19 from 12 balls saw Martinstown home with plenty of overs to spare.

Nichols said: "It was almost a perfect wicket, and so I was hoping we could keep them under 200, so to get them that cheaply was wonderful.

"Matt Read and especially Stuart Fry were very quick and put us in a great position at 20-3. However Dan Belt and Eamonn Scott both batted sensibly, hitting the bad balls, and were beginning to look threatening, before Ryan Chase got Dan with a beauty. Although Eamonn was a threat, one end was opened up now and Ryan and Liam Banfield did the rest."

Of his innings which saw him carry his bat, the left-handed opening bat said: "Dan and Eamonn are the best opening bowling partnership in the league and they came at us pretty hard, and so it was important to nail down one end, particularly after we had lost Dave Herbert early.

"At 69-4 we were a bit anxious, but Ross Stewart came in a scored quickly hitting seven fours, again being patient and hitting the loose balls. Liam Banfield did similar and helped see us home.

"To be in with a chance of back-to-back promotions is more than we had hoped for at the beginning of the season.

"We have a 20 point advantage at the moment so we need to aim at winning at least four of the six play-off matches and hope someone doesn't win all six."

CATTISTOCK rather let this game slip away. They allowed Portland RT openers Matt Randall (36) and Dave Adkins (27) to give the Islanders a head start with some wayward bowling that saw them put 56 on the board for the first wicket.

Things didn't improve much after as the hundred came up in 19 overs with only two down.

Finally it was the spin of Jon Legg that unlocked the situation, and he plundered 4-11 and with support from Billy Walbridge (3-24) and Pete Hammonds (2-32) they dismissed Portland for 158 all out.

Cattistock lost Legg to the second ball of the innings, leg before to Simon Proffitt, who alone contributed a massive 27 to the home total through wides, and when Mike White went for 4 they were 17-2.

However sensible batting from Dave Baggs (18) and Steve Tucker (33) brought them back into the game and at 105-5 the game was still in the balance, but it was the Portland spinners who won the game for the visitors.

POOLE TOWN 4TH 84 ALL OUT BY 9 WICKETS
CHARLTON Down moved one step closer to gaining back to back promotions and into Division Four with an emphatic nine-wicket victory under the guidance of stand in captain Jae Miller.

James Pretty bowled beautifully and used the early damp conditions to his advantage to snare 5-19 from his 8 over spell.

The Voss brothers, Luke and Nick, produced another text book partnership of 67 to see their team to victory in only the 19th over.

Poole Town's innings got off to a sensational start with opening bowler Matt Stevens' first ball (2-22) removing captain Jo Philly, well caught by Jacob Holland chasing around to mid wicket, and with his second ball bowled Matt Allman, leaving them reeling at 0-2.

Andy Miall and Ben Curtis patiently rebuilt the Poole Town's innings until a great piece of fielding in the deep from Mark Homewood saw Kim Park easily run out Curtis with the score on 40-3 and this soon became 40-4 as the introduction of James Pretty proved decisive.

Pretty ripped through the Poole Town middle order bowling four batsmen to leave them on 53-7.

Kim Park (1-15) who reverted to fast off spin then bowled Khambekar and Pretty struck again before debutant Mark Homewood (1-24) took a sharp caught and bowled to bowl Poole out for 84.

Charlton Down only lost the wicket of Jae Miller who was bowled for 14 by Brindley.

Luke and Nick Voss continued their good form from recent weeks and never let the Poole Town bowlers settle, running excellently between the wicket judging singles to perfection.

Nick (31no), the taller of the two, used his height to play some lovely straight drives back past the diving fielders whilst Luke (38no) showed really good shot selection with some classical drives through the covers and beautifully well timed leg side glances.

As both of the brothers confidence grew so did their shot placement. It was fitting that the younger brother Nick hit the winning runs with a punch through to the mid wicket boundary for four.

◆ Nick Voss

Captain Tommy Tucker said: "I was watching from the boundary and was so pleased to see the mixture of both young and old on both teams, and that mixture secured our victory.

"Excellent bowling from James Pretty and Matt Stevens and the batting from the Voss brothers was a joy to watch".

Charlton Down now need just one more victory from their remaining three matches to gain back to back promotion into Division 4.

Put into bat they were dismissed for 69 with Dave Persey (22) and Shaun Annetts (17) top scoring.

Shane Parker (1-12) had early success in Bere Regis' reply, before captain Justin Gurd (2-28) bagged a brace; the first caught by younger brother Leo, and the second a spectacular caught and bowled diving low to his left.

Home skipper A Kent led the way with 41 not out as Bere won by seven wickets.

SYMENE completed their fixtures with a convincing victory at Shillingstone.

Asked to bat they appeared in trouble at 34-4 with Oliver Chaffey (4-21) taking three of the wickets, but veteran Nick Skyrme (50) came to the rescue with a solid half century.

Callum Pattinson (14) kept him company as they added 53 for the fifth wicket, and after Skyrme's dismissal he helped Ollie Lee (56) to add another 74.

With good contributions from the tail, Symene reached 189-9 in their allotted overs.

Liam Toohill (2-6) gave the visitors the start they required when he knocked the openers middle stump out with the first ball of the inning.

Wickets began to fall with regularity as Ollie Lee (4-4) did damage with the ball as well as the bat, and with Colin Willcox (2-21) getting rid of the Shillingstone danger-man Chris Cole for a duck.

Symene wrapped up victory in the 24th over to give them a fourth place finish.

Ryder Cup
player visits
its birthplace

WHEN Samuel Ryder holidayed in Weymouth, he played Came Down golf course, eventually becoming a member.

Keen to support the club he asked Ernest, one of the two Whitcombe brother with whom he was particularly friendly whether they played in important tournaments, to which he replied they rarely did because they couldn't afford it. He added that: "Americans come over here smartly dressed and backed by wealthy supporters, but the British had a poor chance compared to that".

As a direct result of this conversation, Samuel Ryder with his friends Abe Mitchell and Duncan George devised a new competition between Great Britain and America, thus was born the Ryder Cup, first officially played in 1927.

This year Europe is hosting the biennial competition against the USA at Gleneagles next month between 26th and 28th September where the hosts will be hoping to retain the cup which they have won for the past two events.

Tomorrow (Thursday) former British Ryder Cup player Peter Dawson will be visiting Came Down which can claim to be the spiritual birthplace of the Ryder Cup to attend the launch of a new business networking group.

Dawson played in the 1977 Ryder Cup team alongside among others, Nick Faldo, Tony Jackin and Howard Clark and has partnered such greats as Gary Palmer, Lee Trevino and Sevy Ballesteros, and will be the club as the Business Golf Networking (BGN) Golfing Ambassador.

Matthew Wildeman of BGN said: "We are all looking forward to the launch of the new South Dorset BGN group serving Weymouth and Dorchester. Having a Ryder Cup player here at the birthplace of the competition is a real thrill."

Dawson will be on course at 2pm.

Bees let three-goal lead slip away

Bridport 3 Wincanton Town 3
SATURDAY'S friendly match was the typical game of two halves with Bridport dominating the game in the first half and scoring three times despite playing against a brisk breeze. It looked a case of how many at half-time, but the fizz went out of the Bees in the second-half despite the help of the wind that did abate later, and it was Wincanton that picked up their game to score three without reply and earn a draw. Bridport almost took the lead after just two minutes when Dan Wise fed the overlapping Matt Condliffe down the left who cut along the byeline, but Winky's goalkeeper Johnny Hill blocked his shot-cum-cross. However, Hill and the rest of his defence failed to deal with the next raid down the left in the sixth minute when Clarke fed Jamie Symes. Everyone missed his cross except visiting full-back Gary Chapman who in trying to prevent Tom Richardson reaching the ball turned it into the net off his knee.

Robust striker Matt Chant had two opportunities to equalise within three minutes. Firstly having turned his marker, his instant lob just cleared Sam Filkins' crossbar, and then having latched on to a ball over the top of the Bees defence volleyed wide of the far post on the run.

Bees cruising
There was only one team in it at this point as Bridport sprayed the ball around confidently, building from the back and using the full width of the pitch. It was surprise therefore that Wincanton almost equalised on 25 minutes when a well worked move down the left gave Ren Turnock a clear sigh of goal but his sliced his 18 yard shot wide of the right hand post. Sean Stewart gave him a lesson in finishing five minutes later to put the Bees two up, when he met Wise's corner with a delicious low crisp shot from 12 yards. When Condliffe added a third four minutes before the break, it seemed only a matter of how many. The wing back controlled a long diagonal cross wide on the left and turned inside his marker in one movement before cutting along the byline and drilling the ball under the keeper from a narrow angle. Wincanton changed their formation to try and nullify the Bees domination in midfield, and it worked when skipper Matt Peters waltzed past two tame tackles before firing beyond Filkins. This buoyed the Winky's and Filkins was called into action twice in quick succession. On 72 minutes they scored again despite Filkins blocking two efforts from a corner before Chant touched the ball home. Two minutes later were level when Chant got free down the right and despite Filkins denying him with his knees the ball rebounded to him and he drove it just inside the far post from a narrow angle. The Bees best chance of the half came in the last minute when Symes' cross was cleared off the line for a corner and Ryan Hayter's header from the resultant flag kick flew just wide of the far post.

West Bay Sea Angling

Plenty of fish as Nathan take the title

SEVEN junior members signed-on to fish this year's FRANK & PEGGY DAW MEMORIAL MATCH from East Pier, West Bay on July 19th; not quite the record turnout of the previous year, but every competitor managed to land several fish. Conditions were a little challenging with heavy downpours throughout the match but towards the end everyone managed to dry out in some welcome sunshine. With a gentle off-shore breeze, sea conditions were flat and calm and several different species showed, with pout, weever, flounder, ballan and corkwing wrasse, red mullet and sea scorpion brought to the scales. The harbour holds a large number of weever fish at this time which are venomous and need handling with great care; a total of 16 were caught during the match. The competition ran neck and neck between Connor Hallett and Nathan McMaster, both weighing in a good number of fish including two legal-sized each. But it was McMaster who took the trophy with Hallett a close second and Eden Lynham securing third place. Result: 1st: Nathan McMaster 470g (334g legal weight), 2nd: Connor Hallett 854g (289g legal weight), 3rd: Eden Lyn-

Chideock Vets win thrilling final

VETERAN Harry Harrison hit the winning run off the last ball of the game to secure a thrilling victory for Chideock Vets over Quarterdeck in the final of the Crosby Cup Plate final last Tuesday. Opponents Quarterdeck had set a testing target of 134-9 off their allotted 16 eight-ball overs, with Ollie Squibb and Ian Roff both making the maximum 30 before having to retire. In reply the Vets were wobbling at 16-3 before Colin Lloyd joined Bill Alexander and between them they rebuilt the Chideock challenge, both scoring maximums. However, the game was in the balance starting the last over with the Vets needing seven runs for victory, but Harrison produced the classic off drive for a single from the last ball to win the game. The trophies were presented by Paul Crosby and Simon Bowditch, the sons of the competition's two founders Colin Crosby and Fred Bowditch, back in 1976; Simon officiating for the first time since the death of father Fred last year. The final of the cup competition was due to be played tonight (Wednesday) weather permitting. ◆ PICTURE (Right): The Chideock Vets pictured with Paul Crosby (centre right middle row) and Simon Bowditch (centre left middle row)

Terras on target for good season

WEYMOUTH completed an unbeaten pre-season with a 1-1 draw when they entertained Conference North side Gloucester City in front of a crowd of 340 at the Bob Lucas Stadium on Saturday.

Manager Jason Matthews has spent the summer rebuilding a side he took over at the New Year, and with several new signings appears to have moulded a side that can challenge for honours this season.

Having played teams from a variety of levels, his side has been successful in five of the eight matches they played which included beating Torquay United, recently relegated to the Conference Premier, and holding League 2 Plymouth Argyle to a 2-2 draw.

by Stuart Broom

The Terras went behind to the Tigers after just six minutes when Matthews was beaten at his near post by Scott Wilson who having turned his marker on the angle of the area, poked the ball home from 16 yards.

Weymouth equalised with a gift four minutes later.

City keeper Mike Green fumbled a routine headed back pass following Ashley Wells' punt forward from the halfway line, and when the ball squirmed out his hands and ran towards goal, Terras' skipper Stewart Yetton had the simple task of running it in the net.

Weymouth start their Southern League Premier Division fixtures with two home games, starting on Saturday when they entertain Hungerford Town, before hosting Frome Town on Tuesday (12th). Next up is Two away matches at St Neots Town (16th) and Bideford (19th).

Having hosted Hitchin Town on Saturday 23rd, they meet Dorchester Town for the first time in league action for a number of years when the Magpies visit the Bob Lucas Stadium on Bank Holiday Monday (25th).

The return fixture is on Boxing Day.

◆ KEY MAN: Manager Jason Matthews who will play a leading role for the Terras both on and off the field this season.
